INTRODUCTION

GREAT BRITAIN was reluctantly compelled to declare war on Germany in order to keep her treaty obligations with Belgium, and also to maintain her national freedom. Germany was inspired by ambitions which menaced our liberties. They imagined that they were the "Supermen" and that their mission in life was to dominate the world and propagate their "Kultur."

Great Britain, realising the stupendous struggle before her, called for volunteers, and the loyal sons of the Empire nobly responded to the call of duty, and nowhere more fully than in Canada. The flower and chivalry of Canadian manhood rushed to arms to fight for freedom, and for those great principles for which our fathers were willing to die.

Canada may well be proud of her gallant sons. They are brave in battle, patient when wounded, and chivalrous to a fallen foe. They have certainly made good in France and Flanders and have won undying fame at St. Julien.

St. Julien—write that word
In the blood of the noble dead !
Of the men who came at duty's call,
And bravely fought and bled.
They were loyal young Canadians,
Yes, a brave heroic band ;
Who died for King and country,
And the honour of the land.

They also distinguished themselves on the Somme, at Vimy, and at Lens.

It has been a pleasure and a privilege to have met so many of our brave officers and men on active service. There is a wonderful spirit of comradeship among them—a real fraternal spirit which none but those who have been in the trenches can fully understand. They are also cheerful and so optimistic as regards the outcome of the present war.

They realise that there are mighty issues at stake and that we are fighting for high ideals. Our ideals are to a large extent set forth in this Book of Golden Thoughts from the Front. It contains some of the finest and most inspiring gems of thought in the English language, signed by Canadian officers on active service which express their personal sentiments. As Wordsworth says :

We must be free or die who speak the tongue
That Shakespeare spake ; the faith and morals hold
Which Milton held.

A number of the officers who signed quotations have paid the supreme sacrifice. They fought and died to maintain their blood-bought heritage and hand it down unimpaired to their sons. Their death will not be in vain, for from their graves in France and Flanders will spring forth a nobler and a fuller life, which will be an incentive to others, like them, to do noble deeds—

As thinking of the mighty dead
The young from slothful couch will start ;
And vow with lifted hands outspread,
Like them to act a noble part.

Their death will also tend to solidify and strengthen the sentiments of loyal adhesion to the Motherland. As a result of the present European War, there will be a closer bond of union between Great Britain and her Dominions beyond the seas. Young men from every part of the British Empire have been comrades in arms. They have fought and died in a common cause, and are buried side by side on a foreign field. That will be an indissoluble bond between the various parts of the Empire in years to come The noble Dead ! Gallant soldiers, what a glorious death ; brave Crusaders, you have died in a noble cause !

Blow out, you bugles, over the rich Dead !

There's none of these so lonely and poor of old,
But, dying, has made us rarer gifts than gold.

These laid the world away ; poured out the red
Sweet wine of youth ; gave up the years to be

Of work, and joy, and that unhop'd serene
That men call age ; and those who would have been
Their sons, they gave their immortality.

Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.

ALEX. KETTERSON.

Thank Him who isled us here and roughly set
His Saxon in blown seas and storming showers.

We have a voice with which to pay the debt
Of countless love and reverence and regret
To those great men who fought and kept it ours.

And keep it ours, O God, from brute control :
O Statesman, guard the eye, the soul
Of Europe, keep our noble England whole,
And save the one true seed of freedom sown
Betwixt a people and their ancient throne.

IN FLANDERS FIELDS

In Flanders fields the poppies blows
Between the crosses, row on row
That mark our place ; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the Dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe :
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch ; be yours to hold it high :
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

There's not a truth by wisdom taught,

However hard the trial and heavy the

RÉVEILLÉ

Against the blazoned Eastern sky
The bugle call is sounding,—
A day to live, a day to die,
A day with life abounding ;
The quickened manhood in my veins
Drives out all thought of former pains.

At home, the prayers of child and wife,
The love of maid and mother ;
Out here, the glory and the strife
And brother linked with brother ;
Out here, the hours so full and fleet,
And duty's cup, so bitter sweet.

O splendour of the rising sun
Across the dark earth pouring !
Above the roar of shell and gun,
My heart is madly soaring ;
For every soldier good and true
Begins each day his life anew.

CANON FREDERICK GEORGE SCOTT, Hon. Lieutenant-Colonel, C.M.G., Senior Chaplain of a Division of Canadians.

Or save this honoured Land from every lord
But British reason and British sword.

I walked with bare hushed feet
The ground ye tread with boldness shod,
I dare not fix with meet or bound
The power and love of God.

Yet in the maddening maze of things,
And tossed by storm and flood,
To one fixed faith my spirit clings—
I know that God is good.

And if my strength and faith are weak
To bear the untried load,
The bruised reed He will not break,
But strengthen and support.

I know not where His islands lift
Their fronded palms in air,
I only know I cannot drift
Beyond His love and care.

THE CALL TO ARMS

Hear the clarion call of duty
Coming ringing o'er the sea ;
'Tis the call of Mother England,
She is calling you and me.

Hear the tramp of marching soldiers,
And the beating of the drum,
As our gallant boys they march away,
To fight the barbarous Hun.

To fight and die in Freedom's cause,
That British love so dear ;
To face both shell and bayonet,
With hearts that know no fear.

They stand as heroes every man,
In the trenches wet and cold ;
Yet still they fight and nobly die,
Like warriors true and bold.

Your King and country need you !
And shall you a coward be ?
Then join the ranks and forward march,
And cross the deep blue sea,

And stand beside those gallant men,
Who, too, have heard the call,
And left their homes and loved ones,
To fight where brave men fall.

ALEX. KETTERSON, HON. CAPTAIN, C.F., France.

April 23

One who never turned his back but marched breast forward ;
Never doubted clouds would break,
Never dreamed, though right were worsted,
wrong would triumph ;

Sleep to wake.

Let me but live my life from year to year,
With forward face and unreluctant soul;
Not hurrying to, nor turning from the goal;
Not mourning for the things that disappear
In the dim past, nor holding back in fear
From what the future veils; but with a whole

And happy heart that pays its toll
To youth and age, and travels on with cheer.

So let the way wind up the hill or down,
O'er rough or smooth the journey will be joy;
Still seeking what I sought when but a boy—
New friendship, high adventure, and a crown;
My heart will keep the courage of the quest
And hope the road's last turn will be the best.

Through good and ill the war-bolt hurled,
Till Freedom cheered and the joy-bells rung.

THE DEAD

Blow, bugles, blow ! They brought us, for our dearth,
Holiness, lacked so long, and Love, and Pain.

Honour has come back, as a King, to earth,

And we have come into our heritage.

Sweet is the calm of Paradise the blest.

Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me !
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea.

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep,
Turns again home.

Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark !
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark ;

For though from out our bourne of time and place,
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar.

Will rise in majesty to meet thine own.

HON. CAPTAIN N. H. MCGILLIVRAY, Chaplain,

the world.

Emerson.

LIEUTENANT G. W. ANDERSON, C.E.F.

Name not as friends the men who by you stand
In pleasant times, when peace and welfare
please you ;
But him indeed call friend who clasps your hand
In that dark day when want and danger grasp you.

LIEUTENANT J. A. DAWSON, C.E.F., Sussex, N.B.

November 29

Some hae meat, and canna eat,
And some wad eat that want it ;
But we hae meat and we can eat,
And sae the Lord be thankit.

I hold it truth with him who sings
To one clear harp in diver's tones :
That men may rise on stepping stones
Of their dead selves to higher things.

Tennyson.

LIEUTENANT F. S. HUNTLEY, Truro, N.S.

Ah! then when work has lost its robe of beauty,

And none about you care for what you do,
It is most noble then to do the duty
That God has given you.

J. H. Brown.

Thy soothing hand may press.

Selected.

LIEUTENANT C. G. R. KILPATRICK, Victoria, B.C.

Long parting from the hearts we love,
Will shadow o'er the brightest face ;
And happy they who part, and prove
Affection changes not with place.

Eliza Cook.

LIEUTENANT E. H. CUTCHAN, Port Arthur, Ontario.

A man passes for what he is worth. What he is engraves itself on his face, on his form, on his fortunes, in letters of light which all men may read but himself.

Emerson.

LIEUTENANT A. THOMSON WHITE, C.E.F., Port Arthur, Ontario.

Music the fiercest grief can charm,
And fate's severest rage disarm ;
Music can soften pain to ease,
And make despair and madness please ;
Our Joys below it can improve,
And antedate the bliss above.

Alexander Pope.

LIEUTENANT WM. F. ARCHER, C.E.F., Calgary, Ontario.

Don't tell me of to-morrow,
Give me the man who'll say,
That when a good deed's to be done,
"Let's do that deed to-day."

Anon.

LIEUTENANT FRED S. DUPUY, Peterborough, Ontario.

THE CELESTIAL SURGEON

If I have faltered more or less
In my great task of happiness ;
If I have moved among my race
And shown no glorious morning face ;
If beams from happy human eyes
Have moved me not ; if morning skies,
Books, and my food, and summer rain,
Knocked on my sullen heart in vain ;—
Lord, Thy most pointed pleasure take
And stab my spirit broad awake ;
Or, Lord, if too obdurate I,
Choose Thou, before that spirit die,
A piercing pain, a killing sin,
And to my dead heart run them in.

R. L. Stevenson.

CAPTAIN A. E. FRALEIGH, C.A.M.C., St. Mary's, Ontario.

December 2

God doth not need
Either man's work, or his own gifts ; who best
Bear His mild yoke they serve Him ; but
    His state
Is Kingly ; thousands at His bidding speed,
And post o'er land and ocean without rest ;
They also serve who only stand and wait.

Milton.

CAPTAIN GEO. CLARENCE TAYLOR, Canadians,
Charlottetown, P.E.I.

Must our cause be won !

Gladstone.

CAPTAIN G. ELLIOTT FULL, C.E.F., Charlottetown, P.E.I.

December 5

Judge not the working of his brain,
And of his heart thou canst not see ;
What looks to thy dim eyes a stain,
In God's pure light may only be
A scar from some well-won fight,
Where thou wouldst only faint and yield.

A. A. Procter.

CAPTAIN S. A. MOORE, Charlottetown, P.E.I.

I honour the man whose ambition it is, not to win laurels in the State or in the Army; not to be a jurist, . . . poet, or commander; but to be a master of living well, and to administer the offices of master and servant, of husband, father, and friend.

Emerson.

CAPTAIN B. ABBOTT, Chaplain, Fredericton, N.B.

The longer I live the more I am certain that the great difference between men—between the feeble and the powerful, the great and the insignificant—is energy, invincible determination: a purpose once fixed, and then death or victory.

But, Mousie, thou art no thy lane
In proving foresight may be vain !
The best-laid schemes o' mice and men
Gang aft a-gley,
And lea'e us nought but grief and pain
For promised joy.

Burns.

LIEUTENANT C. R. FRASER, Pictou, N.S.

Friendship that flows from the heart cannot be frozen by adversity, as the water that flows from the spring cannot congeal in winter.

the hours or ages that follow it.

Emerson.

LIEUTENANT-COLONEL HADLEY B. TREMAINE,
Windsor, N.S.

The great guiding landmarks of a wise life are indeed few and simple. To do our duty, to avoid useless sorrow, and to acquiesce patiently in the inevitable.

W. Lecky.

MAJOR J. R. MAXWELL, C.E.F., Pictou, N.S.

December 19

altered—
You took the Cross, and made the sacrifice.

Find pleasure by the way.

R. C. Trench.

MAJOR E. W. JOY, Truro, N.S.

Take heart with the day and begin again.

HON. CAPTAIN G. Mc.L. DIX, Chaplain, Truro,
N.S.

Faith, honour, and loyalty are jewels which no change of fancy or mutability of taste can put out of fashion.

And that will be thy duty.

Anon.

LIEUTENANT T. D. RUGGLES, C.E.F., Port Arthur,

Some people only see the world
As through a smoky glass ;
They go half way to meet the woe,
And let the sunshine pass.

Sir Walter Scott.

about it.

Dickens.

LIEUTENANT J. L. BRYANT, Shellmont, Mas.

It matters not how deeply entrenched the wrong,
How hard the battle goes, the day how long ;
Faint not, fight on, to-morrow comes the song:

Anon.

LIEUTENANT F. RILEY, C.E.F.

They went with songs to the battle ; they were young,
Straight of limb, true of eye, steady, and aglow ;
They were staunch to the end against odds
uncounted,
They fell with their faces to the foe.

Lawrence Binyon.

That thought you worthy of it.

Shakespeare.

LIEUTENANT E. C. HAY, Port Arthur, Ontario.

It may be that the gulfs will wash us down,
It may be we shall touch the Happy Isles
And see the great Achilles, whom we knew.
Though much is taken, much abides, and though

We are not now the strength that in old days Moved earth and heaven, that which we are,
we are,

One equal temper of heroic hearts
Made weak by time and fate, but strong in will,

To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield.

Tennyson.

They saw in wider vision
The Empire and its need,
And came, with swift decision,
To do the utmost deed.

And now, and ever after,
Their fame will grow with years ;
They came with songs and laughter,
We leave them here with tears.

F. G. Scott.

CAPTAIN JAMES D. THOMSON, Winnipeg, Man.

Yet ere we part one lesson I can leave you
For every day :
Be good . . . and let who will be clever ;
Do noble deeds, not dream them all day long ;
And so make life, death, and that vast forever,
One grand sweet song.

Charles Kingsley.
